NASA 200 GROUP SCHEMATIC

DEFINITION - Professional scientific and engineering positions not involved in aerospace research and development work:

Includes positions engaged in scientific and engineering work requiring application of professional knowledge of the principles, methods, procedures, and techniques of physical science, engineering, and mathematics. (Those positions whose work is directly related to aerospace activities are excluded from this group—refer to the NSCS 700 Group and positions related to Life Sciences work are found in the NSCS 900 Group).
